

STATEMENT OF WORK: VALUES AND RESPONSIBILITY SPIRITUAL GUIDE

Statement of Work

Subject

The Federal Bureau of Prisons, Field Acquisition Office in Grand Prairie, Texas intends to make a single award of an indefinite delivery/requirements type contract with firm fixed pricing for the provision of a general/interfaith or Values and Responsibility Spiritual Guide at the Federal Correctional Institution (FCI) located in Milan, Michigan. The Spiritual Guide will be an integral part of FCI Milan's Life Connections Program (LCP) and will provide adults in custody with guidance to successfully complete the program with reasonable and equitable opportunities to pursue religious beliefs and practices.

Place of Performance

The service to be provided under the contract shall be accomplished at:

Federal Correctional Institution
4004 East Arkona Rd.
Milan, Michigan 48160

Schedule

Services will normally be provided Monday through Thursday 10:00 AM – 4:00 PM, excluding Federal holidays. The contractor will normally provide twenty-four (24) sessions each week of services. A session is defined as one hour. The schedule may include occasional evening hours based on program needs. A mutually agreed upon schedule will be developed by the LCP Chaplain after contract award.

Due to the nature of the correctional setting, delays in performance of work may be experienced. Such delays may include but are not limited to inclement weather, electrical or mechanical problems, or other security matters. When contract employees report to the institution but are unable to perform services due to such delays, the contractor will be paid for one session. Normally, any remaining sessions for that day will be suspended and the contractor will be free to leave and the contractor will not be paid for the remaining unperformed sessions. However, if the institution requests that the contractor remain at the institution for eventual performance, the contractor shall be paid for such sessions. In the event of any absence, the contractor may make up his/her time if approved by the Contracting Officer's Representative (COR). If the contractor fails to provide coverage, the Government may seek contractual remedy. In the event of an emergency, such as a National Pandemic, or other unforeseen circumstances the contractor may be authorized to perform work from home if approved by the COR.

All quoters must submit with their quote a resume as well as photocopies of documents evidencing education, training, and experience.

After review of these documents by Bureau of Prisons staff, vendors may be requested to submit additional documents for review. Vendors failing to submit any of the required documents will be removed from further consideration for award.

Supplies and Equipment

All supplies that the contractor may need to perform services under this contract will be provided by FCI Milan. The contractor performing these services shall wear professional clothing in accordance with the dress policy of the institution.

Description of Duties

The Values and Responsibility Spiritual Guide shall be responsible for providing instruction and leadership for adults in custody from a variety of faith traditions as well as those with no faith tradition who are active participants in the Residential Faith-Based Pre-release Program. The contractor shall lead daily classes based upon the core LCP curriculum topics including spirituality, religious tolerance, managing emotions, managing conflict, family connections, how to live with integrity, leadership, and any other subject mutually agreed upon by the contractor and the COR. The Instructor will also be responsible to encourage the adults in custody participation in all aspects of the LCP, i.e. journaling, discussion, community service projects, and victim impact discussion. The overall result of the instruction should be a reduction in recidivism and disciplinary programs.

These programs provide adults in custody with intensive opportunities for spiritual growth and deepening their religious roots by sharing common space and programs for the purpose of personal transformation and reducing recidivism. Adults in custody will participate in religion specific and inter-faith program components designed to bring restoration with God, family, community, and self. The program's design will increase religious tolerance and respect among adults in custody of various faiths; will connect each adults in custody with a spiritual mentor; and will link participants with a faith community at their release destination in order to enhance community reintegration. Another component of the program will initiate specific victim impact programs to assist adults in custody in claiming responsibility for their actions and making amends with victims, family, and community.

The program will enlist partnerships with individuals and organizations in its efforts to lower recidivism and facilitate spiritual growth and personal change. Volunteers, contractors, mentors, sponsoring religious congregations and organizations are all essential partners in the program.

The goal of the Residential Faith-based Pre-release Program is to provide adults in custody living in a shared living space with intensive opportunities for holistic life restoration for the purpose of reducing recidivism and enhancing prison management.

The contractor will be monitored by Life Connections Chaplain. The contractor shall attend all training required by the BOP for contract workers, and shall be reimbursed for required training at the contract session rate. The contractor will not be permitted to attend institution meetings, staff recalls, or government training sessions for Institution staff on contract time or as a consideration of the contract.

The contractor may attend team meetings, departmental meetings, or other meetings relating to the involvement of the services to be provided by terms of the contract. Some meetings will be required and accomplished on contract time.

The contractor will be required to follow any and all applicable guidelines for the services to be provided. He/she will also maintain accountability of all Government furnished materials, supplies, and equipment. The contractor will sign the provided log or sign-in sheet as documentation for sessions worked and for security purposes.

Method of Instruction

STATEMENT OF WORK: VALUES AND RESPONSIBILITY SPIRITUAL GUIDE

The contractor will provide religious instruction based on their own expertise as it relates to the core curriculum materials. The contractor will work closely with the Chaplain, and other program staff to assist in the development of the program and to gauge the progress of individual participants. The contractor will analyze the effectiveness of each class taught in the LCP and suggest workable methods of improving them.

Adults In Custody Management

Provision of services will require frequent and unsupervised contact with adults in custody . The contract employee shall not be responsible for the management of any adults in custody, other than to ensure adults in custody involved within the contract's scope of work abide by all rules to ensure their safety and well-being. The contractor may, at any time, be removed from the institution at the discretion of the Warden. The contractor is to constantly be aware of security and maintain a professional relationship with adults in custody at all times. Any violation of the institution rules and regulations are to be brought immediately to the attention of any Government employee employed at the institution. The contractor will be required to provide documentation to the COR, or designee, of any infractions of institutional rules and regulations by adults in custody for proper action.

Institution Security

The contractor/contract employees shall agree to all regulations prescribed by the institution for the safety, custody, and conduct of adults in custody. The contractor shall attend the Institution Familiarization Orientation program prior to assuming institution involvement. Reimbursement to the contractor for the time spent in the institution orientation or other specific security related training will be at the contract rate, prorated hourly. The contract employee will be required to sign in and out of the institution for accountability purposes. A badge will be issued and worn at all times for proper identification. The contractor may, at any time, be removed from the institution at the discretion of the CEO.
