Q&A

 WI 0602 Finish Installation of Forward Decontamination Station in Space

- Question: The current specification primarily references installation of the vaneaxial blower and completion of electrical/HVAC systems, but does not clearly describe the required level of access or structural work. Please provide more details.

- GOV'T ANSWER: The T-ALT has been completed, to include the motor controller, interior modifications etc. had been completed during various other avails. The fan that is currently installed is a 50hz fan, that was somehow mistakenly procured. We should just need to replace that one with the one the ship had ordered and that should complete the transalt.
