Describe in detail why only this source(s) can furnish the requirements to the exclusion of other sources.

The mission of the U.S. Naval War College Wargaming Department is to conduct high-quality applied gaming, research, analysis, and education to support the college's academic mission, prepare future maritime leaders, and shape key decisions for the Navy and other defense organizations.

Source Selection Information – See FAR 2.101 and 3.104

To maintain system integrity, maximize existing hardware investments, and ensure zero-downtime redundancy, the Televic G4 Series is the only hardware that meets the technical requirements of this project. This system is a must to carry out applied gaming/research and decision making to ensure the desired curriculum support and professionalism that is needed to carry out the mission. The Microphone system is needed for compatibility of the current system to ensure all aspects have the same integrity. If the systems do not match the specific tasks will not be able to be specifically carried out.

Market Research was conducted against mandatory sources such as UNICOR, AbilityOne, and GSA which yielded negative results. Televic has various resellers and subsidiaries that can support the supplies that have been requested.

☒ A patent, copyright or proprietary data limits competition.

Televic owns and maintains all proprietary data but has authorized resellers to carry out the supplies that have been requested.

☒ These are "direct replacement" parts/components for existing equipment.

- System Integration: The requested units must integrate with an existing, identical Televic system already deployed on campus. A different brand would be technically incompatible with our current Wireless Access Points and control software.
- Operational Continuity: Standardizing on Televic allows for "self-sparing." Units, batteries, and chargers can be swapped between locations to meet fluctuating delegate counts or replace failing hardware instantly without additional configuration.
- Cost Efficiency: Introducing a secondary brand would require redundant stocks of proprietary batteries and chargers, as well as additional technical training for staff.
- Maintained Competition: While the brand is restricted for compatibility, these components are available through multiple qualified vendors, ensuring competitive pricing.

TECHNICAL/REQUIREMENTS CERTIFICATION:

I CERTIFY THAT THE INFORMATION PROVIDED ABOVE IS COMPLETE AND ACCURATE TO THE BEST OF MY KNOWLEDGE. I UNDERSTAND THAT THE PROCESSING OF THIS < BRAND NAME> JUSTIFICATION PRECLUDES THE USE OF FULL AND OPEN COMPETITION.
