

AFRISS PWS – 15 FEB 2026

PERFORMANCE WORK STATEMENT (PWS) FOR AIR FORCE RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS
INSTRUCTOR SUPPORT SERVICES (AFRISS)

1.0 GENERAL INFORMATION

1.1 General: This is a non-personal services contract to provide Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps Instruction Support Services (AFRISS). Consistent with Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR) 37.104 guidance, the Government will not exercise relatively continuous supervision or control over Contractor personnel performing the services herein. The Contractor is responsible for the management, supervision, performance and conduct of Contractor personnel.

1.1.1 Routine, normal communication, and coordination of contractor tasks shall not constitute supervision and is recognized as an essential element of the mission partnership established through this non-personal services contract.

1.2 Description of Services/Introduction: The Contractor shall provide all personnel, equipment, supplies, transportation, tools, materials, supervision, and other items necessary to perform the Instructional support services defined in this Performance Work Statement (PWS) except for those items specified as Government furnished property and services. The Contractor shall perform to the standards in this contract.

1.3 Background and Scope: Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps (AFROTC) selects, educates, trains, and commissions college students to be officers and leaders of character in the Total Air and Space Force. Additionally, AFROTC instills the values of citizenship, national and community service, personal responsibility, and a sense of accomplishment in college students. Currently there are 145 AFROTC Detachments located at universities across the nation. Mission requirements occasionally result in temporary gaps in the USAF ability to fill all required Instructor positions. The purpose of this contract is to provide qualified Instructors and support services to fill these gaps and prevent disruptions to the cadet's training curriculum. This PWS supports HQ AFROTC, its four (4) Regional Commands, and 145 subordinate Detachments in achieving objectives related to the training and commissioning of AFROTC Cadets and providing instructional support services to the AFROTC Program as a whole in order to instill in our Cadets the Institutional Competencies and Sub-Competencies as directed by the Secretary of Defense (SECDEF).

The Contractor shall provide specialized support in the functional areas of Aerospace Studies Instruction to include administrative support, and related functions as outlined in AFROTC Instruction 36-2011, Volume 3. The primary focus for AFROTC in the base year of this requirement is identified within Technical Exhibit (TE) 3 which outlines the initial staffing for this requirement. Due to the dispersed locations where Instructors are located and the unique requirements at each university, the Government mandates the staffing at the Detachments. The Contractor shall assign employees to meet these requirements at levels of their choosing, provided they deliver the services on time and on target at the specified quality standards. There may be a need in the future to increase, reduce or adjust the locations and numbers contained within TE 3 based on the availability of US Air Force personnel, shifts in cadet operational strengths, and shifts in AFROTC priorities.

The Mission Partner Identity, Credential and Access Management (MPICAM) was developed as a secure and authorized means of entering Contractor data into DEERS in addition to automating the CAC application and approval process. In order to enter Contractor data into MPICAM, the Contractor's data shall be resident in the Defense Information System for Security (DISS). All CUI associated with this contract shall be safeguarded to prevent unauthorized public disclosure. CUI such as PII, Security Classification Guides (SCG), and other technical information with Distribution Statements B, C, D, E or F are not authorized for public release and cannot be placed on a publicly accessible web site or web server. All emails containing such information or attachments shall be appropriately marked, and digitally signed and encrypted if being transmitted. All transmissions to personal email accounts (AOL, Yahoo, Hotmail, Comcast, etc.) and posting on social media websites (Facebook, Instagram, Twitter, LinkedIn, etc.) are prohibited. Destroy all CUI associated with this contract by any of the following approved methods: A cross-cut shredder (that produce 1mm x 5mm or 0.04in x 0.2in particles or smaller); a certified commercial destruction vendor; a central destruction facility; incineration; chemical decomposition; pulverizing, disintegration (pulverize or disintegrate with a 3/32in or 2.4mm security screen); or methods approved for classified destruction.

1.13.3.6.2.1 General: There are types of information that are not classified but require application of access and distribution controls and protective measures developed for DoD Controlled Unclassified Information for a variety of reasons. The types of CUI identified for the program are identified in DoDI 5200.48 and have replaced legacy formats such as For Official Use Only (FOUO), Law Enforcement Sensitive (LES), as well as some of those developed by other Executive Branch agencies of the U.S. Government and technical data described below as well as protective measures for CUI material.

Formats such as FOUO, LES, et al. are legacy formats no longer in use but are protected as if they have CUI markings. Protections and restrictions can be found in DoDI 5200.48, CUI 06 March 2020.

1.13.3.6.2.2 Technical Data Description: Any recorded information related to experimental, developmental, or engineering works that can be used to define an engineering or manufacturing process, or can be used to design, procure, produce, support, maintain, operate, repair, or overhaul program material. The data may be graphic or pictorial delineations in media (e.g., computer software, drawings, photographs, etc.), text in specifications, related performance or design documents, or computer printouts. Examples of technical data include research and engineering data, engineering drawings, and associated lists, specifications, standards, process sheets, manuals, technical reports, catalog-item identifications, related information, and computer software documentation. The DoD Scientific and Technical Information Program (see DoDI 3200.12.).

1.13.3.6.2.3 CUI Markings: Prescribed marking of CUI documents will be in accordance with DoDI 5200.48, CUI 06 March 2020. CUI may also be identified in security classification guides to ensure the information receives appropriate protection.

1.13.3.6.2.4 Access: CUI may be released to an individual who has a valid need for such access within the scope of their assigned duties, furthering the accomplishment of a lawful and authorized Government purpose and would not be detrimental to the interests of the DoD or U.S. Government. Information in any media format will be disseminated on a need-to-know basis. This restricts the use or dissemination of CUI data to those with direct affiliation with the given program/project to conduct official business for the DoD, provided that dissemination is consistent with any further controls imposed by a distribution statement. Personnel no longer requiring access to CUI shall surrender any information in their possession to the program lead, who will take action to terminate further access.

1.13.3.6.2.5 Storing and Handling: During working hours, take reasonable steps to minimize the risk of access to CUI by unauthorized personnel (e.g., not reading, discussing, leaving CUI information unattended where unauthorized personnel are present or display CUI in public places to include the internet). After working hours, store CUI information in locked desks, file cabinets, bookcases, locked rooms, locked/controlled e-files or similar means to prevent theft of program information. Computers used to process CUI do not need to be accredited for classified use. Do not process CUI on public computers (e.g., those available to the public in kiosks, hotels, café's, etc.) or computers that do not have Public Key Infrastructure (PKI) access controls.
