This notice is published in accordance with FAR 10 in support of market research. No award is intended as a result of this request as the Government has no intention to pay for information received. This RFI seeks information on industry's capability to provide Contractor Logistics Support (CLS) services for Commercial Off-the-Shelf (COTS) equipment used by U.S. Army Reserve Command (USARC).

BACKGROUND:

USARC commands all United States Army Reserve units and is responsible for overseeing unit staffing, training, management and deployment. Approximately 205,000 Army Reserve soldiers are assigned to USARC. The major subordinate commands that report directly to USARC consist of operational commands, functional commands, support commands, and training commands. USARC's mission is to provide trained and ready units and individuals to mobilize and deploy in support of the national military strategy. USARC is responsible for all the operational tasks involved in training, equipping, managing, supporting, mobilizing and retaining Soldiers under its command.

This requirement is for the final phase of the USARC mission. The primary focus of this short-term (estimated 18-month) contract will be the orderly wind-down of operations while providing strategic support.

PLACE OF PERFORMANCE:

Describe your plan for providing a flexible workforce that can effectively support the Service's disposition team on-site with minimal oversight.
4. Given that all in-field support will cease by May 30, 2027, describe the specific, cost-effective strategies you would employ to tailor your support, ensure the unit can complete its final evaluation while simultaneously maximizing the opportunity to recover government equipment from the field.
