Description of the supplies or services required, the estimated price/cost, and required delivery date.

The scope of work encompasses performing annual maintenance for the Distributed Antenna System (DAS) located at the United States Naval Academy, which includes comprehensive system cleaning and performance tuning, supplemented by the delivery of detailed maintenance logs. The contractor is required to provide remote diagnostic support, on-site service calls, and annual system 'data walks' to verify and maintain optimal operational functionality. The contractor will also supply the parts listed in the table below:

Description	Qty
Corning MRU PAM 17E 2100-Extended MRU Amplifier	1
Corning MRU PAM 19 1900 MRU Amplifier	1
APC Batteries	45

This requirement is estimated to cost [REDACTED] and has a period of performance of April 1, 2026 – March 31, 2027.

Describe in detail why only this source can furnish the requirements to the exclusion of other sources. (what specific characteristics of the supplies or services limit the availability to a sole source (e.g., unique features, function of the item, etc.)?)

☒ A patent, copyright or proprietary data limits competition.

USNA's Distributed Antenna System by Corning, Inc. is a complex and specialized system and Allegheny Industries, Inc. is the only local Corning-certified source capable of providing the required maintenance services without unacceptable delays and risk to the existing infrastructure. Allegheny Industries, Inc. installed 100% of the DAS across USNA's campus and has provided the maintenance and support for this system for the past twelve years. This has provided Allegheny Industries with an unparalleled familiarity with the specific technical requirements of the installed cellular equipment, remotes, and amplifiers. Their unique historical knowledge and specialized expertise are critical for ensuring the continuous and reliable operation of this system. Soliciting another source would introduce significant risk of service disruption and potential damage to the DAS, which could void warranties currently in place.
