

SOURCES SOUGHT NOTICE

Website Design, Development, and Maintenance Support

Office on Women's Health (OWH)

U.S. Department of Health & Human Services (HHS)

I. INTRODUCTION

This is a Sources Sought Notice issued for market research purposes only in accordance with FAR Part 10. This is not a Request for Proposal (RFP), Request for Quote (RFQ), or Invitation for Bid (IFB). No contract will be awarded from this notice.

HHS/OASH/OWH seeks information from qualified vendors capable of providing website design, development, operations, and maintenance support for the Government-Owned, Contractor-Operated (GOCO) WomensHealth.gov website and related digital products.

The Government is conducting this market research to determine the availability and capability of businesses, including small businesses, and to inform acquisition strategy.

II. BACKGROUND

WomensHealth.gov serves as a primary federal resource for women's health information and public engagement. The platform operates within an HHS/OASH cloud-hosted environment managed in coordination with OASH OCIO and the Unified Web Platform (UWP) team.

OWH seeks contractor support to maintain, enhance, and expand its digital presence to improve public engagement, accessibility, and programmatic reach.

III. SCOPE OF SUPPORT (DRAFT – SUBJECT TO CHANGE)

- Website Operations and Maintenance: CMS support, code maintenance, performance monitoring, security compliance coordination, and governance support with UWP.
- Agile Web Development: Iterative development, front-end and back-end development, API development, integrations, and feature enhancements.
- User Experience (UX) and Design: Human-centered design, UX/UI research and testing, Section 508 accessibility compliance.
- Audience Research and User Testing: Usability testing, analytics interpretation, and audience research.
- Digital Communications Support: Outreach campaigns, webinar support, virtual events, and health storytelling.
