Sole Source Justification

DoDEA requires continued access to professional learning resources aligned with the International Society for Technology in Education (ISTE) standards. These standards serve as the nationally recognized benchmark for effective technology integration in K-12 education. DoDEA formally adopted the standards in 2017 as the foundation for its digital learning strategy. Maintaining alignment with the ISTE

Standards remains essential for strengthening classroom instruction through the purposeful and effective use of technology. An ISTE membership provides DoDEA educators access to high-quality professional learning and resources that support both professional growth and classroom practice. These resources include topic guides and webinars on topics such as artificial intelligence (AI), computer science, and digital citizenship. Educators also gain entry to ISTE Connect, a professional learning network platform and digital community that links them with professionals in K-12 education. Additionally, ISTE membership includes access to resources from the Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development (ASCD), offering support and professional learning in areas such as pedagogy, curriculum, and school leadership.
