

2026 International Naval Review
PERFORMANCE WORK STATEMENT

BACKGROUND:

Commander, Navy Region Mid-Atlantic (CNRMA) requires multiple sets of hotel rooms during various timeframes between 20 June 2026 and 10 July 2026 in New York City to accommodate personnel supporting the 2026 International Naval Review. Due to the operational requirements associated with the unique nature of these duties and responsibilities during 2026 INR, hotel accommodations are required from properties strategically located within each Navy group's immediate work area throughout the greater Manhattan, Queens (LaGuardia), Brooklyn, and Teterboro, NJ area.

To meet these ongoing lodging needs, CNRMA seeks to establish an open-source hotel contract with reputable hotel partners maintaining properties in Manhattan, Queens, Brooklyn, and Teterboro, NJ. The objective is to secure consistent and flexible accommodations under a unified agreement, ensuring competitive rates, reliable availability, and standardized service levels across multiple locations.

SCOPE:

This contract establishes an open-source agreement for the provision of hotel lodging accommodations in support of 2026 INR operations in New York City. The requirement includes up to an estimated 6,080 total room nights (see Paragraph 2 for the room night breakdown by CLIN) to accommodate U.S. Navy personnel performing official duties in support of 2026 INR on and around the Fourth of July.

Hotel accommodations shall include multiple single and double occupancy rooms, designated as run of house, across multiple dates and timeframes. Lodging facilities must be strategically located within each Navy group's immediate work area in Manhattan, Queens, Brooklyn, New York, and Teterboro New Jersey to ensure operational efficiency and timely access to assigned duty locations.

Participating hotels must be reputable, full-service or limited-service properties with consistent standards of quality, safety, and reliability. The intent of this contract is to provide flexible and cost-effective lodging under a unified agreement that ensures competitive rates, consistent availability, and standardized service levels across multiple properties within the greater New York City area.
