

TOPIC: “Other Test Technologies”I. GENERAL INFORMATION

A. Closing Date/Time: Unspecified / open submission timeframe for abstracts. This Opportunity Notice shall remain in effect until rescinded, or until such time as a closing date is provided in this section, and such closing date has passed. [Reference Documents: 1) TE-ST BAA, Section II.B. “Out-of-cycle Process”; 2) Enclosure 1, Section I.B.; and 3) Attachment 13]. In no event shall this Opportunity Notice be valid beyond 14 March 2027.

B. TTA-specific Topics: None.

C. Out-of-Cycle - ‘Other Test Technologies’ Topic

This category encourages offeror consideration to address technology research opportunities (which may include studies) in areas that are not identified among currently active/listed topics but may be beneficial and critical to the future of the technologies that address DoD test needs for rapid transition into the T&E infrastructure. This may identify potentially revolutionary weapon and sensor systems needing T&E capabilities that are currently “unknown unknowns” to the Government.

D. Abstract Submission Requirement:

All Out-of-Cycle topics first require an abstract submission prior to a white paper submission per Enclosure 1 – Research Opportunity Guidance.

E. Table Legend

In-cycle vs. Out-of-Cycle Opportunity Notice Type

TTAs: Test Technology Areas’ initialisms are listed below:

- Autonomy and Artificial Intelligence Test (AAIT)
- Advanced Instrumentation Systems Technology (AIST)
- Command, Control, Communications, Computers, Intelligence, and Software Intensive Systems Test (C4T)
- Cyberspace Test Technology (CTT)
- Directed Energy Test (DET)
- Electronic Warfare Test (EWT)
- High Speed Systems Test (HSST)
- Space Systems Test (SST)
- Spectrum Efficient Technology (SET)
- Nuclear Environments Test (NET)

‘Part.’: Indicates if the TTA is participating in this opportunity release (Yes/No)

Topics: Indicates if TTA-specific topics are listed in this opportunity release (Yes/No)

‘Other’: Indicates if the ‘Other Test Technologies’ topic applies to this release (Yes/No).
