PERFORMANCE WORK STATEMENT

1. SPECIFICATION:

1.1. This requirement is in support of the USS BLUE RIDGE (LCC-19), which requires Original Equipment Manufacturer (OEM)-authorized Technician(s) to provide system programming, testing, and maintenance of the Government furnished and installed King Fisher Temporary Fire Detection system. This assistance includes visual and operational inspection of the Government installed Fire Detection Systems. After installation Contractor must provide a detailed installation diagram and training on alarm conditions and how to interpret them to U.S. Naval Ship Repair Facility and Japan Regional Maintenance Center (SRF-JRMC) Yokosuka Fire Safety Council Representative (FSC) and The Ship Force Watch Standers.

1.2. Technician must be on-site during installation phase and available to provide distance support and occasional "as needed" onsite support during normal and evening working hours to facilitate Fire Detection System component monitoring, each modification, and each repair to support work upon request from the FSC at SRF-JRMC Yokosuka.

1.3. OEM to provide support from the Japan based technician to accommodate the periodic and sporadic need for Temporary Fire Detection support to SRF-JRMC Yokosuka.

2. REFERENCES:

2.1. NAVSEA Technical Manual S0570-AC-CCM-010/8010 Industrial Ship Safety Manual for Fire Prevention and Response

3. ENCLOSURES:

3.1. None.

4. GENERAL SCOPE OF WORK:

4.1. The Contractor will provide OEM-authorized Technical Representative(s) and equipment to provide system programming, testing, maintenance of the Government installed King Fisher temporary detection system in accordance with Reference 2.1.

4.1.1. The Contractor must accomplish the requirements of paragraph 4, for up to a total of 335 EA Temporary Fire Detector and associated equipment, to include equipment installation and removal assistance "as needed" by SRF-JRMC.

4.1.2. The Contractor must accomplish the requirements of paragraph 4, for up to a total of 35 EA Temporary Flood Sensors and associated equipment, to include equipment installation and removal assistance when directed by the SUPERVISOR.

4.1.3. Activation of a temporary detector must be indicated on the centrally manned control panel at Central Control Station (CCS)/Damage Control Central (DCC) and the remotely located annunciator panel at either the ship's primary Quarterdeck or the secondary Quarterdeck. An alarm specific space location must be provided by the Contractor and available on the control panel and annunciator panel to enable the Ship's watch stander to quickly identify which space the alarm was activated in. This will facilitate immediate dispatching of Ship fire response personnel to the affected space.

4.1.4. The Contractor must provide an Alarm indicator index or similar to satisfy paragraph 4.1.2. Index must be provided at each control panel and annunciator immediately after satisfactory completion of installation programming and testing. Provide electronic copy of the Alarm indicator index to the SRF-JRMC FSC. This document must be updated immediately after each new detector is installed under paragraph 4.1.1.

4.2. SYSTEM INSPECTION: The Contractor must inspect each installed system component, including each independent back-up power supply, to ensure proper function and operation with SRF-JRMC Yokosuka Shop 99 representatives.

4.2.1. The contractor must provide weekly inspections of the installed temporary system.

4.2.2. The contractor must verify functionality of each equipment component used to replace each defective equipment component.

4.2.3. The Contractor must repair each nonfunctional part as needed to maintain functionality. The Contractor must notify SRF-JRMC Yokosuka Shop 99 of each equipment component requiring replacement. SRF-JRMC Yokosuka Shop 99 will install each replaced equipment component. The Contractor must provide a report of each defective equipment component requiring immediate replacement, and each equipment component that may require replacement in the future.

4.2.4. The contractor must provide a report of each defective equipment component replaced and/or repaired. This report should include each equipment component that may require future replacement and/or repair.

4.2.5. The contractor must provide onsite or remote technical assistance troubleshooting each fire detection system fault within 24 hours from notification by the Government.
